1. H W Beckwith, History Of Vigo And Parke Counties, 1880, pp 381-382 (Sugar creek Twp). "Jacob Butz (deceased), son of George and Catherine BUTZ, natives of Pennsylvania, was born July 6, 1800, in Butztown, Northampton county, Pennsylvania. At an early age he entered his father's flour-mill at Butztown, where he continued to labor for several years, until, the dust injuriously affecting his health, he was compelled to leave it. His father, having disposed of the mill, moved to Philadelphia, and Jacob joined him in keeping tavern. On June 10, 1832, he married Miss Catherine HAGENBAUCH, daughter of Christian and Elizabeth HAGENBAUCH. In April, 1833, he moved to Fairfield, Greene county, Ohio, where he kept tavern until July 1848[1838?], when he moved to Cincinnati and took charge of the Merchante Hotel. He continued there until the winter in 1846, and having purchased a farm in Clark county, Ohio on March 5 he took possession and farmed one year. He leased his farm and returned to Philadelphia in April 1847, where he and his brother George engaged in keeping the "Red Lion" tavern. At the expiration of three months he separated from his brother, and took charge of the "Washington" tavern in Harrisburg. In July 1848, he retired to his farm, where he remained until the autumn of 1856, when he sold his farm, and, with his family, arrived in Paris, Illinois, about December 25. Here he rested until March 5, 1857, when he moved on a farm which he had rented for one year. In the meantime he rented the Paris Hotel, and took possession in March 1858. In March, 1859, he moved to Clinton. Vermilion county, Indiana, having leased the Barricj House, over which he presided eighteen months. He then moved to Terra Haute, having leased the Clark House, and purchased it in the autumn of 1860 at sheriff's sale. In 1863 his son, David W., was slain in battle with the indians at Elm creek, Colorado. Mr. BUTZ continued at the Clark House until April 1865, when he removed to his farm, on Sec. 25, which he purchased in 1864. He remained on the farm until May 1867, when he and his son George leased the National House, in Terra Haute, and bought its furniture. Here, on June 1, 1871, George died. In May 1872, Mr. BUTZ retired from the National House and removed to his farm where his earthly career closed April 11, 1878. His widow survives, living with her son Reuben on the home farm. His children are Cornelia A., Joseph and Reuben. Reuben is the township trustee, having been elected April 5, 1880. Reuben married Miss Katie C St. CLAIR on November 30, 1869. His children are: Mabel L. and Alfred J. The farm contains 550 acres of bottom and upland in a fine state of cultivation."
